

Independence Matters: Professionalism in Healthcare

15 - 17 May 2015

Presented by Prof Paul Komesaroff (Monash University), Assoc Prof Ian Kerridge (University of Sydney),
Prof Grant Gillett (University of Otago) & Prof Ron Paterson (University of Auckland)

Independent audiologists

new zealand & australia

Wellesley Boutique Hotel
2 - 8 Maginnity Street
Wellington, New Zealand

Early Bird Bookings close on 30 March 2015
Visit www.independentaudiologists.net.au to register

independentaudiologistsnz.co.nz • independentaudiologists.net.au

Independence matters to healthcare consumers, practitioners and researchers. But how can we demonstrate independence in the context of globalization, vertical integration, online availability of products and services? How can we best demonstrate our independence when product sales are part of our clinical recommendations? Are conflicts of interest resolved by regulation and codes of ethics? Emerging professions like audiology can both learn from established medical and allied health professions and contribute to ongoing discussions of independence, regulation and professionalism within the healthcare sector. This three day interactive seminar will provide in-depth and up-to-date information about professionalism and independence in healthcare. Delegates will discuss complex ethical and regulatory concerns with internationally recognised medical and legal experts. The seminar will conclude with practical steps for individuals, professional associations, and advocates to ensure that professionalism and independence continue to matter in healthcare.

Presenters

Professor Paul Komesaroff (Monash University)
Associate Professor Ian Kerridge (University of Sydney)
Professor Grant Gillett (University of Otago)
Professor Ron Paterson (University of Auckland)

Endorsed by Audiology
Australia for 21 CPD points
– CPD 15 018

This team of internationally recognised experts in the field of medical ethics, healthcare law and regulation will offer presentations and facilitate small group workshop activities and discussions relevant to contemporary healthcare practice

Co-convened by Independent Audiologists Australia and Independent Audiologists New Zealand

Presented over three days by internationally recognised experts in bioethics

Delivered in an interactive format over three days

Addressing key issues for sustainable independent practice in healthcare:

- Healthcare: professions and industry
- Conflicts of interest and using evidence
- Regulation

Venue

Wellesley Boutique Hotel
2 – 8 Maginnity Street
Wellington, 6011, New Zealand

Registration

The seminar is open to healthcare practitioners and consumers with an interest in independent healthcare matters.

CLICK HERE TO REGISTER NOW

Early Bird Closes ON 30 March 2015

Click here for more details

Enquiries to exec@independentaudiologists.net.au or Tel: +61 424720915