

AGEING, HEARING LOSS & PUBLIC HEALTH

Come join us as we hear from Dr Frank Lin, MD, PhD, a world expert in Ageing, Hearing and Public Health. In this workshop, you will hear about:

- The latest research on hearing loss and the functioning of older adults
- Implications for cognitive functioning, brain ageing and dementia
- Future trends in public health and policy

THURSDAY, 9TH MAY 2019

- Presenter Frank R. Lin, MD, PhD is the director of the Cochlear Center for Hearing and Public Health and a professor of otolaryngology, medicine, mental health, and epidemiology at Johns Hopkins. Lin completed his medical education, residency in Otolaryngology and PhD at Johns Hopkins. Lin's clinical practice is dedicated to otology and the medical and surgical management of hearing loss.
- Venue Cochlear Headquarters | 1 University Avenue, Macquarie University
- Program 5:00PM Registration and networking drinks
6:00PM Start

Endorsements:

Audiology Australia CPD1819 089: 2 CPD points (Category 1.1) | AcAud 201926: 2 CEP Points | HAASA CPED 2018-2020 (2019-011): 2 Points

CLICK HERE TO REGISTER

For more information contact anz-events@cochlear.com

Cochlear, Hear now. And always and the elliptical logo are either trademarks or registered trademarks of Cochlear Limited © 2019

Hear now. And always

